Katherine L. Pritchard

Marketing Content Writer

“Guaranteed Quality Content, Exceeding Expectations & Raising the Bar”

Dear Sir or Madam,

07/04/2020

As a professional writer who delivers quality copy, and raises the bar, I am qualified to help your company handle its writing concerns and address its marketing needs. I guarantee to produce the exceptional writing you require and that your clients deserve.

By furnishing my unique creativity, originality, and detailed thoroughness, I aim to help your company enhance its ongoing growth and success.

I am an organized, articulate, and goal-driven content writer, always striving to exceed professional expectations. As a senior in college, I exceeded my English professor's expectations when I finished RMU's Technical Report Writing and Editing course with a final grade that surpassed 100%.

I have 13+ years of content writing experience in way of blogs, articles, web content, promotional copy, taglines, press releases, and more. My content creation skills will give you the confidence and versatility to put me in any number of roles with multiple responsibilities.

My marketing and writing talents would make me an instrumental employee for your company once I become a member of your team. If you choose to extend me an offer of employment, you'll not only be making a hiring decision – you'll be making an investment.

Thank you for your valuable time and kind consideration.

Best regards,

Katherine L. Pritchard
